PDT MACRON ANNOUNCED THE NATIONAL LOCKDOWN ON 17TH MARCH FOR 2 WEEKS TO BE REPEATED

The quarantine in France was announced, by the President of the Republic, Emmanuel Macron, for 15 days, since 17th March at noon, by "the restriction of movements and visits to the strict minimum, for no other reason than vital or vital work, a from tomorrow at noon "It is an" Italian "confinement to avoid clogging up the hospitals which are saturated in the Great East of France, and in view of the exponential growth in the number of COVID-infected - 19. The social distanciation has not been fairly effective in France where some citizen seem to take it too easy, and not really respecting the quarantine, and still going out without holding their Pass certificate, or, still gathering, or simply keeping their ancient thym while facing the novel virus"[...A shocking situation as the death toll is rising up and the French hospitals are overwhelmed, with Doctors, multiplying the calls for being more responsible and more reasonable to avoid piling up in intensive care"[.where the beds are scarcely available. President Macron also announced the deployment of a military hospital with 30 beds, (at least) and including nurses, doctors at least, which will be installed tomorrow. IN PARIS & ELSEWHERE MANY FRENCH PEOPLE DO NOT RESPECT THE CONTAINMENT DESPITE THE RISKS OF CONTAMINATION------

Videos circulate on social networks and via the media, highlighting the lack of civility and erses of the instructions concerning the confinement that started, since March 17, 2020, and which is likely to be extended for another 15 days. state gives the velocity of the evolution of the propagation curve of the coronavirus in France. Indeed, in Paris, Belleville and Barbes, in the marches, people move without masks or gloves and do not respect the social distancing of 1 meter, and to do not present the certificate on the honor of exit, mandatory, otherwise a fine of € 135 is applied. And then there are even those who are aggressive towards police officers, themselves deprived of protective masks. Parisians, swinging along the banks of the Seine, jogging, rollerblading, wandering their children like a usual Sunday afternoon. Like those also who fled the capital by rushing up on each other to buckle up to access the TGV train wagons and go to the provinces to "confine themselves" in their second residences or with grandparents. Many have emptied their cellars by taking their best wines, ... as if they were going to organize a party! They just forget that the hospitals of the provincial towns or small villages are small and tone in gall captured of reception in normal times Not to mention those who rob shops as well as supermarket distributors have explained that France has what fed all the mode on crying months and that there is no expected shortage"

POLICE OFFICERS GIVEN 4,095 FINES IN A DAY FOR NON-RESTRICTED QUARANATINE

The police verbalized pulse 4,095 people, in a first day of confinement, after Aprils council 70,000 people. That makes a lot. Some French people have confused quarantine with vacancies, with partial unemployment "reimburses, after the State". Many citizens refuse to go to work, claiming that they are in danger of death and therefore declare their "right of withdrawal" like these cases of supermarket cashiers and workers in the canters of Saint Nazaire. A woman in Paris 18th, has just assaulted a policeman and he coughs and spits on her while resuming being infected with Coronavirus ... Another woman bronze in the sun on the beach of Nice and answer a journalist "that she will pay for it" \in 135 fine and that she tanned benefited from the sun "[?]. Unconsciousness or irresponsibility, or lack of civility, all this reveals the flaws of the French society, very fractured, of which some citizens prove to be disrespectful of the law and barely repressed, and seemingly gleefully endanger themselves, as well as relatives And the others".
